

Board Room style Setup

A boardroom floor plan structures the room with all attendees sitting around a closed table environment. Boardroom set-up is structured for attendees to have close interaction.

A standard boardroom which is designed for smaller executive meetings is very common an existing set. The furniture reflects an executive environment, including in most cases leather chairs, built-in A/V equipment, and other amenities to impress attendees. These rooms are designed for smaller groups of attendees.
